Criminal Defense

Connor is an experienced criminal trial lawyer who tried forty-eight jury trials in his role as Deputy District Attorney in the First Judicial District prior to entering private practice. He defends clients in a wide array of criminal matters and has extensive courtroom experience through all stages of criminal cases, including those concerning domestic violence, child abuse, intent to distribute, unlawful sexual contact, prohibited use of a weapon, violation of a protective order, assault, careless driving, driving under the influence, and attempted murder.

Civil Litigation

Connor's trial and fact development skills also make him an asset in assisting in civil litigation matters on a wide array of disputes, including those dealing with civil theft, fraud, and personal injury.
